About 10 years ago I left my country of Latvia. I was fed up with discrimination by nationality, language and I was sick to my stomach with nationalism and plain fascism (which is ignored in EU).

A week ago immigration officers at Lyon airport, rsk discriminated me by language rsk: I was questioned in a very offensive way even though I was born and raised in EU, I hold a EU passport and travelling within EU. A few days later I see an ad at Lyon airport that hate speech is prosecuted. Now I am reporting the discriminative behavior to the Lyon airport authorities.

I truly hope that one of the most tolerant and inclusive countries in the world will stick to its values and defend human rights disregard of language, skin color or political views. Europe must treat Russians, Belorussians, Ukrainians and any other nationality with dignity and respect. eu This is our strength, culture and greatest value.

I am Russian. I will not tolerate discrimination.

This was definitely one of the options. However, 2 arguments:

1. RU had to confront the western forces that were financing the coup in UA and replacing the government (from the RU muppet to US muppet).
2. As the lady in the video rightfully said, it would be so much better to find the way to keep UA neutral. Like Finland, while also has a long border with RU.

In any case, the war needs to stop as soon as possible. Just hipocritic virtue signalling

I am an ethnic Russian, but in these days I want to confess that I am also Lak. I am Dagestan. I am Chechen. I am Ingush. I am Russian. I am Tatar. I am Jewish. I am Mordvin. I am Ossetian. I am any of more than 300 nations, for whom Russia is a home. We stay united, we stay strong and we will prevail under any circumstances.
