Denis Alyanov UA Unfortunately far-right regiments have been officially incorporated into Ukrainian security institutions. Public places and streets are named after notorious Nazi criminals and the parlements votes for glorifying them and throwing a party in their sake. I beg to differ that's a thing to my deep regret.

Denis Alyanov UA You also suggest putting all Ukrainians into a list of extremists for attempts to glorify the accomplices of Nazism by Kyiv? That's a slippery slope.

To those ones interested in the history of the conflict, I recommend googling about the Georgian Civil War, president Gamsakhurdia and things like Dzari Tragedy which preceded the war (or Ask your Abkhazi or Ossetian friends if they want to be with Georgia) Russia has stopped the massacre and Mikheil Saakashvili provocation in 2008. Mikheil is in Georgian prison now for being involved in the assassination attempt of a Georgian parliament member. So the situation is way more complicated than some of the manipulators may want you to see.
